CUTTING the wooden/ bamboo mosaic

1. Wooden mosaic DUNIN is made of natural, high grade wood.

3. The cubes of the wooden or bamboo mosaic should be cut with a manual saw or a fret-saw, and then the edges of the mosaic should be sanded with the abrasive paper.
4. Cutting the mosaic in the home conditions is not easy, so we recommend you to lay the pattern of the mosaic in such manner that there will not occur any need to cut the cubes.

GLUING the wooden/ bamboo mosaic

1. Before starting the work you should accurately clean the floor removing dust, water and grease.
2. Do not use traditional cement glues which include considerable amount of water. Wood absorb moisture, it may cause occurrence of bulges and irregularities on the surface of the mosaic.
3. Butter evenly the floor with the Powerflex from the DUNIN Technik series, using the geared float. The PowerFlex is a quickly binding product that is why you must accurately wash your hands after the work completion. Maksimum length of the teeth of the float should be 3 mm.
4. The slice of the mosaic should be grasped with both hands, put against the wall and tightened. The slices should be separated with the daggers.
5. Remove glue from the mosaic's surface and from the tools and hands. The remains of the glue cannot stay on the mosaic. In the case the glue is hard dry it can be removed mechanically out of the surface.

POINTING the wooden/ bamboo mosaic:

1. Pointing should begin not earlier than 24 hours after gluing the mosaic into the surface.
2. We recommend usage of the Fugaflex joint that is available in in the packages of 300 ml or 600 ml capacity. Follow the instructions and the parametres mentioned on the package of the joint.
3. The joint dries off very fast so we recommend to fill with tile joint maximum 1 square meter of the surface for each work activity and the surplus must be currently washed out. from the mosaic's surface by the EKSTRAKCYJNY or NITRO dissolvent.
4. After the pointing completion the cleaned mosaic should be left for drying up for 48 hours.
